20. Incorrect. The answer is false not true. Income elasticity at equilibrium is (dQd/dY)(Y/Qd) = 0.1(100/36.45) = 0.274. Oil is a normal good at equilibrium but not a luxury good. A luxury good would require an income elasticity greater than 1, while a negative income elasticity would imply the good is inferior.