

21. Correct. The answer is false. The $100 in 10 years would be worth $(100) \cdot (1.1)^{10} = \259.37 and the $100 in ten years would be worth $(100)/(1.1)^{10} = $38.55$ today.