

13. Correct. The answer is false. Russia with around a third of the world's gas reserves has the most followed by the Middle East.