

1. Correct. The answer is true. From 1953-1998, most European countries increased their percentage of usage for natural gas depending less on coal and oil.