

31. Incorrect. The answer is false not true. As fossil fuels are depleted, we expect to move on to higher cost renewable fuels, which are often called backstop fuels.