

14. Correct. The answer is false. For example, the U.S. Clean Air Act of 1990 established a market for SO₂ emissions allowances, which has been successfully operating since 1995.