

18. Correct. The answer is false. A uranium subsidy will lower price and lead to an increased consumption of the product. Subsidizing abatement of pollution should reduce pollution but gives firms incentives to exaggerate the amount they want to pollute. Lower cost raises profit, which might also cause entry into the industry.