

4. Correct. The answer is false. Canada possesses the greatest proven world reserves with 33%. Canada uranium reserves are mainly located in the province of Saskatchewan with most production from two large deposits Key Lake and Rabbit Lake. They are followed by Australia with 15% and Russia with 6% of world reserves.