

8. Correct. The answer is true. Uranium is a naturally occurring element containing uranium-235 and uranium-238 isotopes. Only the uranium-235 isotope is fissionable. Enrichment is the process of increasing the concentration of uranium-235 while decreasing the concentration of uranium-238. Uranium is enriched through gaseous diffusion and the gas centrifuge process.