

10. Correct. The answer is false. There is both a shift and a slope change. The change in income will shift the budget constraint out, while the change in energy price will steepen the slope.

